SCHEDULE

CONVENTION ON THE CONSERVATION OF MIGRATORY SPECIES OF WILD ANIMALS

The Contracting Parties,

Recognizing that wild animals in their innumerable forms are an irreplaceable part of the earth's natural system which must be conserved for the good of mankind;

Aware that each generation of man hold the resources of the earth for future generations and has an obligation to ensure that this legacy is conserved and, where utilized, is used wisely;

Conscious of the ever-growing value of wild animals from environmental, ecological, genetic, scientific, aesthetic, recreational, cultural, educational, social and economic points of view;

Concerned particularly with those species of wild animals that migrate across or outside national jurisdictional boundaries;

Recognizing that the States are and must be the protectors of the migratory species of wild animals that live within or pass through their national jurisdictional boundaries;

Convinced that conservation and effective management of migratory species of wild animals require the concerted action of all States within the national jurisdictional boundaries of which such species spend any part of their life cycle;

Recalling Recommendation 32 of the Action Plan adopted by the United Nations Conference on the Human Environment (Stockholm, 1972) and noted with satisfaction by the twenty-seventh Session of the General Assembly of the United Nations;

Have agreed as follows:

ARTICLE I

INTERPRETATION

1. For the purpose of this Convention:

- (a) “Migratory species” means the entire population or any geographically separate part of the population of any species or lower taxon of wild animals, a significant proportion of whose members cyclically and predictably cross one or more national jurisdictional boundaries;
- (b) “Conservation status of a migratory species” means the sum of the influences acting on the migratory species that may affect its long-term distribution and abundance;
- (c) “Conservation status” will be taken as “favourable” when:
  - (1) Population dynamics data indicate that the migratory species is maintaining itself on a long-term basis as a viable component of its ecosystems;
  - (2) the range of the migratory species is neither currently being reduced, nor is likely to be reduced, on a long-term basis;
  - (3) there is, and will be in the foreseeable future, sufficient habitat to maintain the population of the migratory species on a long-term basis; and
  - (4) the distribution and abundance of the migratory species approach historic coverage and levels to the extent that potentially suitable ecosystems exist and to the extent consistent with wise wildlife management;
- (d) “Conservation status” will be taken as “unfavourable” if any of the conditions set out in sub-paragraph (c) of this paragraph are not met;
- (e) “Endangered”, in relation to a particular migratory species means that the migratory species is in danger of extinction throughout all or a significant portion of its range;
- (f) “Range” means all the areas of land or water that a migratory species inhabits, stays in temporarily, crosses or overflies at any time on its normal migration route;
- (g) “Habitat” means any area in the range of a migratory species which contains suitable living conditions for that species;
- (h) “Range State” in relation to a particular migratory species means any State (and where appropriate any other Party referred to under sub-paragraph (k) of this paragraph) that exercises jurisdiction over any part of the range of that migratory species, or a State, flag vessels of which are engaged outside national jurisdictional limits in taking that migratory species;

- (i) “Taking” means taking, hunting, fishing, capturing, harassing, deliberate killing, or attempting to engage in any such conduct;
- (j) “Agreement” means an international agreement relating to the conservation of one or more migratory species as provided for in Articles IV and V of this Convention; and
- (k) “Party” means a State or any regional economic integration organization constituted by sovereign States which has competence in respect of the negotiation, conclusion and application of international agreements in matters covered by this Convention for which this Convention is in force.

2. In matters within their competence, the regional economic integration organizations which are Parties to this Convention shall in their own name exercise the rights and fulfil the responsibilities which this Convention attributes to their member States. In such cases the member States of these organizations shall not be entitled to exercise such rights individually.

3. Where this Convention provides for a decision to be taken by either a two-thirds majority or a unanimous decision of “the Parties present and voting” this shall mean “the Parties present and casting an affirmative or negative vote”. Those abstaining from voting shall not be counted amongst “the Parties present and voting” in determining the majority.

ARTICLE II

FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES

1. The Parties acknowledge the importance of migratory species being conserved and of Range States agreeing to take action to this end whenever possible and appropriate, paying special attention to migratory species the conservation status of which is unfavourable, and taking individually or in co-operation appropriate and necessary steps to conserve such species and their habitat.

2. The Parties acknowledge the need to take action to avoid any migratory species becoming endangered.

3. In particular, the Parties:

- (a) should promote, co-operate in our support research relating to migratory species;
- (b) shall endeavour to provide immediate protection for migratory species included in Appendix I; and
- (c) shall endeavour to conclude Agreements covering the conservation and management of migratory species included in Appendix II.

ARTICLE III

ENDANGERED MIGRATORY SPECIES: APPENDIX I

1. Appendix I shall list migratory species which are endangered.
2. A migratory species may be listed in Appendix I provided that reliable evidence, including the best scientific evidence available, indicates that the species is endangered.
3. A migratory species may be removed from Appendix I when the Conference of the Parties determines that:
  - (a) reliable evidence, including the best scientific evidence available, indicates that the species is no longer endangered, and
  - (b) the species is not likely to become endangered again because of loss of protection due to its removal from Appendix I.
4. Parties that are Range States of a migratory species listed in Appendix I shall endeavour:
  - (a) to conserve and, where feasible and appropriate, restore those habitats of the species which are of importance in removing the species from danger of extinction;
  - (b) to prevent, remove, compensate for or minimize, as appropriate, the adverse effects of activities or obstacles that seriously impede or prevent the migration of the species; and
  - (c) to the extent feasible and appropriate, to prevent, reduce or control factors that are endangering or are likely to further endanger the species, including strictly controlling the introduction of, or controlling or eliminating, already introduced exotic species.
5. Parties that are Range States of a migratory species listed in Appendix I shall prohibit the taking of animals belonging to such species. Exceptions may be made to this prohibition only if:
  - (a) the taking is for scientific purposes;
  - (b) the taking is for the purpose of enhancing the propagation or survival of the affected species;
  - (c) the taking is to accommodate the needs of traditional subsistence users of such species; or
  - (d) extraordinary circumstances so require,provided that, such exceptions are precise as to content and limited in space and time. Such taking should not operate to the disadvantage of the species.
6. The Conference of the Parties may recommend to the Parties that are Range States of a migratory species listed in Appendix I that they take further measures considered appropriate to benefit the species.

7. The Parties shall as soon as possible inform the Secretariat of any exceptions made pursuant to paragraph 5 of this Article.

ARTICLE IV

MIGRATORY SPECIES TO BE THE SUBJECT OF AGREEMENTS: APPENDIX II

1. Appendix II shall list migratory species which have an unfavourable conservation status and which require international agreements for their conservation and management, as well as those which have a conservation status which would significantly benefit from the international co-operation that could be achieved by an international agreement.

2. If the circumstances so warrant, a migratory species may be listed both in Appendix I and Appendix II.

3. Parties that are Range States of migratory species listed in Appendix II shall endeavour to conclude Agreements where these would benefit the species and should give priority to those species in an unfavourable conservation status.

4. Parties are encouraged to take action with a view to concluding agreements for any population or any geographically separate part of the population of any species or lower taxon of wild animals, members of which periodically cross one or more national jurisdictional boundaries.

5. The Secretariat shall be provided with a copy of each Agreement concluded pursuant to the provision of this Article.

ARTICLE V

GUIDELINES FOR AGREEMENTS

1. The object of each Agreement shall be to restore the migratory species concerned to a favourable conservation status or to maintain it in such a status. Each Agreement should deal with those aspects of the conservation and management of the migratory species concerned which serve to achieve that object.

2. Each Agreement should cover the whole of the range of the migratory species concerned and should be open to accession by all Range States of that species, whether or not they are Parties to this Convention.

3. An Agreement should, wherever possible, deal with more than one migratory species.

4. Each Agreement should:

- (a) identify the migratory species covered;
- (b) describe the range and migration route of the migratory species;
- (c) provide for each Party to designate its national authority concerned with the implementation of the Agreement;

- (d) establish, if necessary, appropriate machinery to assist in carrying out the aims of the Agreement, to monitor its effectiveness, and to prepare reports for the Conference of the Parties;
  - (e) provide for procedures for the settlement of disputes between Parties to the Agreement; and
  - (f) at a minimum, prohibit, in relation to a migratory species of the Order Cetacea, any taking that is not permitted for that migratory species under any other multilateral agreement and provide for accession to the Agreement by States that are not Range States of that migratory species.
5. Where appropriate and feasible, each Agreement should provide for, but not be limited to:
- (a) periodic review of the conservation status of the migratory species concerned and the identification of the factors which may be harmful to that status;
  - (b) co-ordinated conservation and management plans;
  - (c) research into the ecology and population dynamics of the migratory species concerned, with special regard to migration;
  - (d) the exchange of information on the migratory species concerned, special regard being paid to the exchange of the results of research and of relevant statistics;
  - (e) conservation and, where required and feasible, restoration of the habitats of importance in maintaining a favourable conservation status, and protection of such habitats from disturbances, including strict control of the introduction of, or control of already introduced, exotic species detrimental to the migratory species;
  - (f) maintenance of a network of suitable habitats appropriately disposed in relation to the migration routes;
  - (g) where it appears desirable, the provision of new habitats favourable to the migratory species or reintroduction of the migratory species into favourable habitats;
  - (h) elimination of, to the maximum extent possible, or compensation for activities and obstacles which hinder or impede migration;
  - (i) prevention, reduction or control of the release into the habitat of the migratory species of substances harmful to that migratory species;
  - (j) measures based on sound ecological principles to control and manage the taking of the migratory species;
  - (k) procedures for co-ordinating action to suppress illegal taking;
  - (l) exchange of information on substantial threats to the migratory species;

- (m) emergency procedures whereby conservation action would be considerably and rapidly strengthened when the conservation status of the migratory species is seriously affected; and
- (n) making the general public aware of the contents and aims of the Agreement.

ARTICLE VI

RANGE STATES

APPENDIX II(Substituted by S.R.O. 40/1998)INTERPRETATION

1. Migratory species included in this Appendix are referred to:
  - a) by the name of the species or subspecies; or

- b) as being all of the migratory species included in a higher taxon or designated part thereof.

Unless otherwise indicated, where reference is made to a taxon higher than species, it is understood that all the migratory species within that taxon could significantly benefit from the conclusion of AGREEMENTS.

2. The abbreviation “spp.” following the names of a Family or Genus is used to denote all migratory species within that Family or Genus.
3. Other references to taxon higher than species are for the purposes of information or classification only.
4. The abbreviation “(s.1.)” is used to indicate that the scientific name is used in its extended meaning.
5. An asterisk (*) placed against the name of a species or higher taxon indicates that the species, or a separate population of that species, or one or more species included in that higher taxon is included in Appendix I.
